

CITY COURT FIGHT GETS HOTTER PETITION FOR FOSTER ARRIVES

YOUNG MEN HOLD UP SLATE FOR FEW DAYS TO ADD FINAL TOUCHES

Their Slogan "No Quarter Given, or Taken"—Petition for Foster is Signed by Many Bridgeport Lawyers, Who Favor Wilder for Deputy Judge.

(By Our Special Staff Correspondent.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—Contrary to expectation the names of Elbert O. Hull, for judge, and Robert H. Gould, for deputy judge, of the city court of Bridgeport, which have been agreed upon by the faction of the Republican party of Bridgeport known as the "Young" men, were not presented to the General Assembly, to-day. The Young men at a conference in Bridgeport, last night, decided not to present the names of their candidates until some day next week.
Robert H. Gould has consented to accept the nomination for deputy judge of the court, although originally he was a candidate for the judgeship, giving way to Elbert O. Hull for that position.
The "Young" men, at their conference in Bridgeport last night, discussed the petition which has been circulated among the lawyers of Bridgeport favoring the retention of A. L. DeLaney as prosecuting attorney. This petition in effect is an endorsement of the candidacy of Carl Foster for judge, as the office of prosecuting attorney does not oppose the incumbent named by the man selected for judge. No petition for the appointment of Mr. DeLaney as received by the General Assembly as it would have no bearing upon any matter before that body and it has no power to make an appointment.
At the conference held last night the "Young" men went over the ground pretty thoroughly and after some discussion decided to adhere strictly to the program outlined in this paper yesterday. Adopting the words of Mayor Lee they say they "will seek no favors, nor give quarter." The younger element of the party say they propose to put through their program in accordance with their plans.
The petition of the lawyers when it appeared in Bridgeport was made of Mr. DeLaney. No mention was made of Mr. DeLaney.
The undersigned, members of the Bridgeport Bar Association, respectfully recommend Hon. Carl Foster for appointment as Judge, and Frank L. Wilder, Esq., as Deputy Judge of the City Court of the City of Bridgeport. They are eminently qualified for said offices, and we request their appointment.

JUDGE MEADE UNANIMOUSLY RE-ELECTED

Chosen as County Commissioner for Fairfield County for Four Years From March 1 Next—His Long Term of Service for the County.

(By Our Special Correspondent.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—Both houses of the General Assembly under suspension of the rules re-elected Judge Whitman S. Meade of Greenwich to the office of county commissioner of Fairfield county for a term of four years beginning March 1, 1910. There was no opposition. Judge Meade having been the choice of the caucus of Fairfield county Republicans and his election was unanimous.
Judge Meade was first appointed a county commissioner of Fairfield county in 1891 and has served continuously since that time and if he lives to complete the term for which he was just elected will have served the county for 22 years as commissioner, the longest term of service ever given by any man in the position.
Judge Meade may well be proud, which Mr. Meade may well be proud, of all who have to do with his office, regardless of politics.

OPPOSITION TO THE TREASURER'S BOND PROJECT

Legislators from Small Towns Are Stirred Up—Bill Calls for $7,000,000 to Cover Several Items.

(Special from United Press.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—Considerable opposition has developed to the new State bond bill drafted at the instance of State Treasurer Patten and calling for a $7,000,000 bond issue in place of that of $5,000,000 authorized by the last Legislature. The $5,000,000 issue was intended to cover appropriations for $4,500,000 for good roads, $1,500,000 for the new State library and repairs and improvements to the Capitol grounds, and $500,000 for the new State armory and arsenal.
Both the building projects are under way and a million and a half has been spent on contracts and to be spent on roads, but no bonds have been issued and the projects so far have been financed by the State revenues. Many who have in mind the deplorable presentation of the State's finances made in the treasurer's last report, are asking why the State should borrow money in short term loans from the Hartford banks at high rates of interest to meet running expenses, when by disposing of the bonds they could secure the necessary capital and would be only called upon to pay 3-1/2 per cent.
Mr. Patten explains that 1908 was a bad year to sell bonds, but is met with the statement that Senator Bulkley agreed at the time of their authorization to attend to their disposal if any difficulty was met there. The new bill calls for a $7,000,000 issue in all and the increase comes about by reason of the new 3-1/2's for them.
The legislators, especially those from the smaller towns, have become greatly stirred up over the question and are making careful inquiries.

SMALLPOX IN PENITENTIARY.
(Special from United Press.)
Middletown, Ky., Feb. 4.—Two convicts at the Kentucky Penitentiary are seriously ill with smallpox, several others are being carefully guarded, and an epidemic of the disease is feared. Eleven hundred prisoners may be exposed.

CHILD LABOR BILL INTRODUCED BY SENATOR BOWEN

Makes Drastic Changes in Present Statutes Relating to Employment.

Girls Under 16 and Boys Under 15 Are Greatly Restricted in Character of Employment They May Engage in—Penalties for Violation.

(By Our Special Correspondent.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—Senator Bowen of Naugatuck introduced in the Senate to-day a most drastic child labor bill which if enacted into law will change the conditions of employment for the boys and girls of tender years and will provide penalties for its violation. It is the most radical measure of its kind probably ever introduced in this state.
The bill provides that no girl under the age of 16 years shall be employed in any manufacturing concern, or in any mercantile or mechanical operation, or in any telephone or telegraph office, hotel office, restaurant, or in the sorting, manufacture, or packing of tobacco, or in the sale of papers upon the streets. It also provides that no boy under 15 years of age shall be employed in any elevator, or allowed to work in any theatre or bowling alley. The bill excepts those who have entered into these employments previous to Sept. 1, 1908. Any person violating the above provisions shall be fined not less than $20 and the same penalty is imposed upon the parents of the children who are so employed.

FIRE LOSS DECREASES $150 IN EACH FIRE

Mr. Bullard Makes Statement Showing Results Accomplished by Improved Department.

President Bullard of the Board of Fire Commissioners has some interesting figures relative to the local fire department. Although the number of fires is increasing yearly the department is decreasing the losses. During the past four years the average loss per fire has been $360, and during the four years previous the average loss per fire was $510.
As the average number of fires per annum is 300 the reduction in fire losses is $45,000, despite the increase in the number of fires with the corresponding growth of the city. At this rate the amount of property saved by building up the fire department has been $180,000 in four years, or enough to pay for running the department for four years.
This saving is outside of reductions made in insurance rates and is attributed by Mr. Bullard to the improved department.

W. S. MEAD AGAIN CHOSEN COMMISSIONER

C. Ernest Lounsbury, Following Plea for Young Men, Gets 11 Votes in 36.

At the caucus of the Fairfield county Republicans held yesterday afternoon at Hartford, N. Burton Rogers of Danbury presiding, Whitman S. Mead of Greenwich, was renominated for county commissioner by a vote of 25, to 11 cast for C. Ernest Lounsbury of Danbury. Representative Williams of the latter place in placing the Darien candidate before the caucus said that while he did not propose to say anything against the other candidate, it was a fact that he had held the office for 18 years and that if elected again he would be 22 years in office before his term expired.
He said that Mr. Mead was a man reputed to be worth $150,000 which went to show that he did not need the office. He was now 68 years old, he said, and in his opinion the policy of the Republican party to encourage young men he thought the time had arrived when there should be a change in the office. He was not necessary to convince Mr. Williams that the majority of the caucus desired no change, as the best that Lounsbury could do was 11 out of a total of 36 votes.
W. C. Johnson of Newtown was chosen caucus candidate for county auditor, receiving 23 votes to 13 for C. Ernest Lounsbury. The latter made no canvass whatever, though urged to do so by a number of the representatives who were opposed to him. Sherman Hawley worked in the interests of Johnson.

AUTO-AMBULANCE CHEAPER THAN HORSE FLESH

The cost of maintaining the auto-ambulance for the month of January is a surprise to the members of the board of charities and to others who have expected a large increase in expense of the department through this source. The total expense of maintaining the ambulance for the month is $19.95.
This compares favorably with the old horse ambulance, which cost the city $27.50 per month, outside of the salary of the driver. Since the new ambulance was installed it has never balked or delayed a call a second. It has responded to every demand made upon it. During the month it answered 43 calls and in every case it has been on the road from two to four minutes after the call was received.
Driver A. E. Burson was informed this morning that work would be begun on quarters for his family, on the upper floor of the Police and Charities building, in a few days. The rooms will be cut off from the drill hall, a part of which has already been pre-empted by the board of health and the Tuberculosis society. Four nice rooms will be provided for the driver, which will use up all the remaining space on the upper floor of the building.
—Joseph V. Brennan, superintendent of poor, is laid up with an attack of grip and is not able to attend to his duties at the Charities building.

BRIDE OF A DAY LEAVES WITH A FORMER LOVER

Young Husband Returns from Work to Find His Home Deserted, His Bride Missing, and His New Furniture Useless.

Wed on Sunday, deserted on Tuesday, is the burden of the story told by John Mycenowski to Capt. Arnold at police headquarters this morning. The unhappy bridegroom led a blushing, blooming Helena Wojcieszewska to the altar in the Polish church Sunday, and afterwards celebrated his nuptials with a few friends at the home he had prepared at No. 1 Green Court, East Bridgeport. Helena is 27. The husband is 35.
A year ago Helena was the affianced of Stanislaus Wilhelm. Stanislaus went to Mexico four months ago and returned last Wednesday. He had with him $250 he had received from his father's estate in Poland. He found that his fiancée was to be married Sunday and told his friends that he would steal her from her husband. The husband alleges that he did this by saying that his wife was practically abandoned.

The husband went to his work on Monday and returned at night to find the house locked. He had no suspicion of any wrong, thinking she had gone out temporarily, and he waited for her to return. At 9 o'clock his suspicions were aroused and he broke in the door to find his wife packing her effects. Nothing else in the house had been touched. The new furniture and household articles he had purchased remained as reminders of his happiness he had hoped for, but had missed.
Investigation brought out the fact that the old lover had appeared with another man and had taken the belongings of Mrs. Newfield. Further investigation by the injured husband convinced him that Wilhelm had stolen his wife from him. This is Mycenowski's story. He made no complaint to the police was not made with the idea that they would get his wife back for him. He believes that she will return to him. He says he has no money, he is exhausted, but he says he will not receive her. He said this morning: "She can go to Mr. Devil, I don't care."
He wants her arrested, as well as her companion. He was told that the matter was one for civil action, unless he could find his wife living with another man here. He went away grieving.

POLICE TRYING TO BREAK ALIBI

Newark, Feb. 4.—The police are today bending efforts to break down the alibi which Nicholas Sica, the Italian, has set up in connection with the death of Frank Wilhelm, the contractor, and Justice of the Peace, who was found for running a gambling game in the basement of his home Monday night.
Sica has maintained that he was not at the Wilhelm home after 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. The most important development to-day the police believe, is the statement by Anna Saltau, a nurse girl who says she saw Sica at the Wilhelm home at 6 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Wilhelm, wife of the murdered man, is still detained in a cell, the detectives believing that her confession of love for Sica will be followed by other developments bearing on the case.
The woman was taken to the morgue last night by detectives and fainting when confronted with the body of her murdered husband. In her paroxysms of grief, however, she made no substantial statements which would arouse the suspicions of the police.

MATERNITY WARD FOR HOSPITAL

Ladies' Association Begins Work of Raising Funds—Grand Ball February 13.

The crowded condition of the Bridgeport Hospital has made the erection of a Maternity Ward an absolute necessity. Plans under way to raise money for the building fund assumed that the ladies association would be decided by the ladies association to give a ball, concert and illustrated lecture at the Stratfield, Saturday evening, Feb. 13th. The best soloist of the Metropolitan Opera Company has been secured for the occasion together with a beautifully illustrated lecture on the Philippines by a prominent local traveler. The music for the ball will be of the very best and Mr. Griswold of the Stratfield who will have personal direction of the floor, promises an unusually attractive programme.
The benefit is in charge of Mrs. William T. Hincks and Mrs. E. W. Bassick. The following is the list of patronesses: Mrs. Henry A. Bishop, Mrs. Nathaniel W. Bishop, Miss Elizabeth P. Bishop, Mrs. Henry Blodgett, Mrs. Edmund C. Bassick, Mrs. Samuel A. Burns, Mrs. Louis E. Curtis, Mrs. Samuel T. Davis, Jr., Mrs. George C. Edwards, Miss Marion DeForest, Mrs. Nathan H. Heft, Mrs. Enoch P. Hincks, Mrs. Robert W. Hinckley, Mrs. Egbert Marsh, Mrs. Marshall E. Morris, Mrs. Louis S. Morris, Mrs. Allan W. Paige, Mrs. William H. Perry, Mrs. George L. Porter, Mrs. Charles B. Smith, Mrs. Robert C. Sanford, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, Mrs. Dever H. Warner, Mrs. George W. Wheeler, Mrs. William T. Hincks, and Mrs. E. W. Bassick.

Weather Indications.

(Special from United Press.)
New Haven, Feb. 4.—Forecast: Fair and warmer to-night; Friday partly cloudy.
The disturbance that was central in Montana yesterday morning has moved eastward and is now central in North Dakota. It is producing cloudy weather in the northern sections but not much snow or rain. Pleasant weather prevails in the southern sections.
The Greens Farms Farmers' Club will hold an institute at Lincoln Park, Feb. 12, in the lecture rooms of the congregational church, starting in the morning and continuing throughout the day. An extensive program has been arranged.

AFTER CONTEST WATER HEARING IS GRANTED

Former Secretary of State Phelan Makes Plea for Fair Play.

Those Who Wish to Be Heard in Opposition to 20-Year Water Contract May Be Heard in City Hall at 7:30 Tomorrow Evening.

The lagging interest in the Tax Board meeting was stimulated last night, about 10:30, when Lynn W. Wilson, who had been waiting patiently for an hour or two, for the hearings scheduled by the board to take place, asked that a date be assigned for a hearing upon the proposed appropriation of $12,000 under the terms of the water contract.
Mr. Wilson pointed out, that despite the importance of the matter of the water appropriation, and the great public interest taken in it, no hearing had been assigned for it, not even a preliminary way upon this subject.
Mr. Wilson said that there were a number of persons who desired to be heard, to whom no opportunity had been afforded. He suggested a hearing for the board to take place on Tuesday, when the board adjourned, at 7:30 o'clock.

Mr. Wilson then said that inasmuch as the board had adjourned to a date prior to the second Tuesday in February, that he with all others would have the right to be heard. He would therefore continue his remarks at this time and avail himself of his privilege of hearing at the later date.
The clause in the charter which is in question, provides that the board of water works shall hold a meeting on the first Tuesday in February which may be adjourned to a day not later than the second Tuesday in February; and that no more than one such meeting of all parties who may desire to be heard.
Hon. John J. Phelan, former secretary of state, who came upon the board last year, took the floor and argued that it was unjust to deny a proper hearing, in such an important matter, when there were those who wished to be heard. He moved that a hearing be given.
Mr. Paige dissented. The motion was carried.
The hearing was finally fixed for Friday evening at 7:30.

PANIC IN CONVENT FROM NEARBY FIRE

Girls and Sisters Kneel in Prayer While Firemen Fight Flames—Blaze Near Hotel Albany.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, Feb. 4.—Two hundred guests of the Hotel Albany in the heart of the theatre district fled to the streets in scanty attire early to-day when a fire broke out in the building next door. Broadway has never before seen such a display of the latest modes of night dress. Chorus girls carrying lap dogs and men in vivid pajamas rushed out of the building to return to the hotel lobby when the stepped out on the snow covered walks.
Brooklyn firemen were called to a fire in a five story factory building in Emory Place early to-day. Eight hundred girls in the convent of the Sisters of Mercy became panic stricken and they were ordered to the chapel for prayer. For several hours while the firemen fought the fire which for a time threatened the whole neighborhood, the girls and 48 sisters knelt in prayer.

SECRETARY LOEB FOR COLLECTOR OF PORT OF NEW YORK

President Tells Callers He Will Be Named for That Post.

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, Feb. 4.—President Roosevelt to-day told several of his New York callers that William Loeb, Jr., his secretary, would be the next collector of the port of New York. He is expected to be nominated by President Taft.
Secretary Loeb's salary is $5,000. The salary of the collector of the port of New York is $12,000.
(Special from United Press.)
11 A. M.—The market ruled generally heavy from the opening prices of the standard stocks, sustaining declines ranging from fractions to over one point with the trading element generally active on the bear side and in their talk attaching market importance to the drift of tariff news from Washington. Consolidated Gas sold off 1/4 on aggressive selling. The Gould issues still ruled strong and were an exception all through the hour to the general heaviness.
Market conditions remained unchanged during the last half of the forenoon. The general list following consolidated Gas the decline became extremely dull. A firmer tone developed later and a little of the early loss was recovered.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

Many sorrowing relatives and friends attended the funeral of Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Kirby, which was held this morning from her late home, 109 Cathedral street, at 8:30, and from St. Augustine's church at 9, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Mara, who preached an eulogy praising the deceased for her life of Christian piety. Many exquisite floral tributes surrounded the bier. The pall bearers were James Sullivan, Chris. Weldon, David Jack, Joseph O'Connor, Daniel Coughlin, Arthur Pease. The burial was in the family plot at St. Michaels cemetery.

THIRTEEN LEAGUE CASES THROWN OUT OF COURT

NICHOLSON AND O'BRIEN, ATTORNEYS FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT BODY ADMIT EVIDENCE INSUFFICIENT

Queer Story Said to Be Connected With the Failure of the Detectives Upon Whom the League Relied, and the Source of the Funds from Which Their Compensation Was Taken.

The Law Enforcement League received a setback in the criminal Common Pleas court, this morning, before Judge Walsh, when thirteen cases of alleged illegal liquor sales appealed from the City court, were nolle. The evidence in all the cases was obtained by supposed detectives in the hire of the Law Enforcement League, for which Attorneys M. E. O'Brien and Judge E. K. Nicholson are counsel.
Prosecuting Liquor Agent Frederick B. Fallon and Judge Elmore S. Banks told the court that the evidence gathered by the league was obtained by parties concerned responsible; that the detectives were of no account.
The cases were nolle on the admission of Attorneys O'Brien and Nicholson, who were unable to be present at the hearing, that they did not have enough evidence to convict.
The nolle cases are as follows: John H. McMurray, John Farrell, Jake Walz, H. de Quetteville, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel; Joseph De Niro, James McCarthy, James Jacques, Mrs. Ann Clancy, Emil Engleman, Patrick Driscoll, Daniel O'Neill, Daniel Walker, and others.

STATE TAX PROPOSED

Bills in Both House and Senate Imposing a Direct Tax.

Senate Bill Calls for One-Half Mill on Grand List—Senator Luther Proposes Measure for Supervision of Schools and State Examination of Teachers—Other Matters in General Assembly.
(Special from United Press.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—Members in both Houses opened their ears to-day at the introduction of bills in both Senate and House calling for a state tax. The bill introduced in the Senate came from Senator Brooks and is supposed to have been drawn by State Treasurer Patten. It lays a state tax of one half mill on the grand list of 1908 and on that of 1909 when compiled.
The bill introduced in the House came from a Democratic source, Representative Forster of Rockville is its sponsor and it lays a state tax of one mill on the grand list of 1908 and 1909.
Following his sensational report of Tuesday on the public school system, Senator Luther, Chairman of the Educational Commission, introduced a bill in the Senate to-day which provides that towns employing not less than 20 or more than 30 teachers may appoint a school superintendent who shall have jurisdiction over the schools in town and shall receive one half of his salary from the state, but he is to work in conjunction with the state board of education. He also introduced a bill which provides that the state board of education after examination of students, graduates of Yale, Trinity, Wesleyan or the state Normal will not be compelled to take the examination. After June 1, 1910, no teacher may be employed who does not possess a certificate.
Senator Fenn on the other hand introduced a bill which provides that after July 15th this year each town shall resume all management of their schools.
Senate to-day appointed Senator Chaffee of the 15th district and Senator Higgins of 25th district to serve as the Committee on Unfinished Business.

RORABACK FILES EXPENSE ACCOUNT

Tells What He Received and Spent in E. J. Hill's Contest for Senatorship.

(Special from United Press.)
Hartford, Feb. 4.—J. Henry Roraback, political agent for E. J. Hill, filed his expense account with the Secretary of State late this afternoon. It shows receipts of $2,500 and expenses as follows:
Ally House, rooms and meals, $67.85; newspapers, circulating and advertising, etc., $450.97; carfare, hotel bills and various expenses for self and sundry other persons (estimated), $300.00; Telegrams and telephone, $50.00; stenographer use of machine, $75.00; W. H. Marigold, expenses, Hotel Garde, $22.25; incidental expenses (estimated), $150.00; balance on hand, $358.63. The Secretary of State submitted the bill to the Attorney General and after consultation with that gentleman signed it as follows:
"Approved as proper as in accordance with the statute." (Signed) Matthew H. Rogers, Secretary of State.

Marriage Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. O'Brien celebrated the 13th anniversary of their marriage, last evening, with an informal reception, from 8 to 12, at their home, 778 Washington avenue. Jerome May's band orchestra rendered a splendid musical program and dancing was enjoyed by the guests. A delightful luncheon was served.
